SUBJECT: IN THE MATTER OF INTERMOUNTAIN GAS COMPANY'S APPLICATION FOR AUTHORITY TO REVISE RATE SCHEDULE EEC-
RS- RESIDENTIAL ENERGY EFFICIENCY CHARGE; INT-G-22-05.

On August 10, 2022, Intermountain Gas Company ("Company"), applied for authority to revise its rate schedule to the Residential Energy Efficiency Charge ("EEC-RS"), effective October 1, 2022. The Company represents that the Commission authorize a one-time credit of $4,850,000 of the residential deferral balance to residential customers through its Purchased Gas Cost Adjustment ("PGA") filing (See INT-G-22-04) and Commission approval of a decrease in the EEC-RS, from $0.02093 per therm to $0.01564 per therm. Application at 5. The Company represents that, as of June 30, 2022, the Company had an over-collected EEC-RS program balance, which it is addressing through its INT-G-22-04 PGA filing, and that the decrease in the EEC-RS schedule will accurately match revenues with expenses based on its forecasts. Id. The Company represents that participation in energy efficiency programs have grown, albeit at a slower rate than previously forecast. Application at 6-7.

The Company requests that this matter be processed by modified procedure.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Staff recommends the Commission issue a Notice of Application and Notice of Modified Procedure establishing a September 8, 2022, public comment deadline, and a September 15, 2022, Company reply comment deadline.
